

Muddy Boots Volunteer Sessions

Our Muddy Boots volunteer sessions relaunched in June 2021 and have gone from strength to strength ever since. These sessions provide our volunteers the opportunity to learn from the rangers, improve their mental and physical wellbeing, and the opportunity to meet likeminded people.

Each site will host a regular Muddy Boots Volunteer Group to support the rangers with their practical management and conservation work. On top of this we are also looking for volunteers to help with ad-hoc projects, litter picking, events, site monitoring and more.

We would love to hear from anybody who is interested in helping us to look after these very important local woodlands, ensuring that they are safe & welcoming for both the public who visit them and the wildlife who call them home.
