1 Executive Summary

1 Executive Summary

- 1.0.1 The Housing and Economic Land Availability Assessment (HELAA) has been prepared to determine the potential housing and economic land supply in North Norfolk over the next 20 years. This time frame accords with the plan period of the emerging Local Plan and will inform the preparation of that plan. The HELAA is presented in two parts, part one covers potential land for residential use while part two focuses on potential economic land.
- 1.0.2 It is important to note that the HELAA does not represent policy and will not determine whether a site should be allocated in the Local Plan or granted planning permission. It is in effect a ‘pool’ from which Local Plan proposal sites can be tested and bought forward. It also represents a ‘snapshot’ of capacity based upon the data and information available (e.g. site constraints, landowner intentions, and site availability) as at 1st August 2016. It is based around an assessment of individual sites rather than any consideration of cumulative constraints. As we progress through the stages of Local Plan production it is likely that further land sources will be presented to the Council. This HELAA however provides the platform from which to build from and inform the preparation of the Local Plan.
- 1.0.3 The HELAA report contains the following:
- Details of the methodology used to assess the suitability, availability and achievability of sites for housing or economic development;
  - Analysis of findings from the site assessments;
  - Indicative housing land trajectory;
  - Summaries of all site assessments and associated mapping.
- 1.0.4 The report itself provides the context of land supply in the district and provides the evidence:
- as to whether the council is likely or not to meet its development needs within the district in relation to the identified future needs for housing and for economic growth;
  - In order to support discussions with other authorities under the Duty to Co-operate, if the council needs to ask others to assist in delivering North Norfolk’s development needs.
- 1.0.5 The methodology for this assessment is in accordance with the guidance set out in the Housing and Economic Land Availability Assessment section of the National Planning Practice Guidance <sup>(1)</sup>. To ensure a consistent methodology across Norfolk a joint methodology was prepared by the Norfolk Authorities and informed by key stakeholder’s views. The joint Authorities are:
- Breckland Council;
  - Broadland District Council;
  - Broads Authority;
  - Great Yarmouth Borough Council;
  - Borough Council of King’s Lynn and West Norfolk;
  - North Norfolk District Council;
  - Norwich City Council; and,
  - South Norfolk Council.

Executive Summary 1

Appraising Sites

- 1.0.7 Sites included within this document have been drawn from a range of different sources including those which may already have planning permission or be earmarked (allocated) for development in a current plan, and those suggested by owners, developers and others as potential development areas.
- 1.0.8 Each of the sites included in this document has been subject to a two-stage appraisal process;
- Stage 1 - Site Exclusions
In the first stage small sites and those which are subject to an absolute constraint have been excluded (see chapter 3, Methodology). For example, if a site is known to be in an area which is identified as being at risk from potential coastal erosion then it is not considered in stage 2.
  - Stage 2 - Suitability Assessment
In the second stage the remaining sites are assessed as to their suitability for development. The results of the process for each site are presented in Appendix 2.

Maps

- 1.0.9 Appendix 7 displays the sites which have progressed to Stage 2 Suitability Assessment. These are categorised into two groups:
- Blue (Less Constrained) - where our assessment indicates that there are no known significant constraints (or no constraints at all).
  - Orange (More Constrained) - where our assessment indicates a more significant constraint which is less likely to be overcome.
- 1.0.10 The full details of assessment and constraints for each site can be viewed in Appendix 2.

Key Findings

- 1.0.11 519 sites were assessed for their potential for economic or housing uses and a full list can be seen in the Appendices.
- 1.0.12 The HELAA identifies that there is potential capacity to accommodate an indicative 51,904 (gross), 38,369 (net), additional dwellings in North Norfolk. This is comprised of:
- Large sites: 45,116
  - Small sites (<50 dwellings): 4,557
  - Extant planning permissions: 2,231
- 1.0.13 The Central Norfolk Strategic Housing Needs Assessment (2016) provides the context for the identification of Objectively Assessed Need (OAN) and reports a requirement of 8,387 dwellings over the plan period 2016-2036 - a requirement of 420 dwellings a year.
- 1.0.14 In relation to OAN this report concludes that there is sufficient residential development land across the district to accommodate the identified housing need across the plan period.
- 1.0.15 Part two of this report will cover land capacity for economic uses including an update on existing potential employment premises review.

1 Executive Summary

Next steps

- 1.0.16 The HELAA and other studies will help to inform the next stages of work in the preparation of the Local Plan. In particular the identified sites will form the basis of future site assessment. The intention is that preferred sites will be identified in relation to the emerging spatial strategy and consulted on during the latter part of 2017. The Local Plan remains an iterative process and additional sites and updated information can come forward throughout the process, it should be noted that this HELAA represents a point in time.

Executive Summary 1

2 Introduction

2 Introduction

2.1 Purpose of the HELAA

- 2.1.1 The purpose of this assessment is to provide information on the range and extent of land which could be considered for development to meet the objectively assessed needs, OAN identified for housing and economic development in Norfolk across the period 2016-2036. It provides each Local Planning Authority with an audit of land regardless of the amount of development needed to meet identified need<sup>(2)</sup>. The Central Norfolk Strategic Housing Market Assessment (CN SHMA), covering the local planning authority areas of Breckland, Broadland, the Broads, North Norfolk, Norwich and South Norfolk, was published in January 2016 and provides the context for the identification of OAN.
- 2.1.2 The Housing and Economic Land Availability Assessment (HELAA) is a key evidence document which supports the preparation of Local Plans. Its purpose is to test whether there is sufficient land to meet objectively assessed need (OAN) and identifies where this land may be located. The HELAA represents just one part of wider evidence and should not be considered in isolation of other evidence.
- 2.1.3 It is important to note that the HELAA does not represent policy and will not determine whether a site should be allocated in the Local Plan or granted planning permission. Nor is it the purpose of the HELAA to identify what locations are “sustainable”. It is in effect a ‘pool’ from which Local Plan proposal sites can be tested and bought forward. It also represents a ‘snapshot’ of capacity based upon the data and information available (e.g. site constraints, landowner intentions, and site availability) as at 1st August 2016. It is based around an assessment of individual sites rather than any consideration of cumulative constraints.

2.2 Planning Policy Context

- 2.2.1 The National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) requires that Local Planning Authorities (LPAs) maintain an adequate supply of housing land in their area. As part of this, they must establish realistic assumptions about the supply of suitable and available deliverable housing and economic land to meet the identified need for housing and economic uses within their area over the plan period<sup>(3)</sup>.
- 2.2.2 The most up to date guidance for the preparation of HELAA is provided in the national Planning Practice Guidance (PPG)<sup>(4)</sup>. The guidance provides clarity on the methodology that should be followed and what factors should be considered including what assumptions and where windfall sites can be included in the supply. Windfall sites are sites which have not been specifically identified as available in the Local Plan process. They normally comprise previously-developed land that has unexpectedly become available<sup>(5)</sup>. Should it be concluded that insufficient sites have been identified against objectively assessed needs the PPG advises plan makers to revisit the assessment on revised assumptions such as reduced size threshold. If, following this there is still insufficient sites then it will be necessary to investigate how this shortfall can be planned for and undertake discussions under the Duty to Cooperate to assess if there is sufficient capacity in neighbouring areas to accommodate additional growth.

Introduction 2

- 2.2.3 To ensure a consistent methodology across the Housing Market Area<sup>(6)</sup> of Central Norfolk a joint methodology was prepared by the Norfolk Authorities and informed by key stakeholders views following a consultation held between 21st March 2016 and 3rd May 2016. The joint Authorities are:
- 2.2.4 Breckland Council; Broadland District Council; Broads Authority<sup>(7)</sup>; Great Yarmouth Borough Council; Borough Council of King's Lynn and West Norfolk; North Norfolk District Council; Norwich City Council; and, South Norfolk Council.
- 2.2.5 The methodology and assumptions used are summarised in section 3 and can be found in full on the Joint Authorities individual web site(s), including at www.north-norfolk.gov.uk/helaa

7 The Broads Authority area includes a small part of Suffolk. Any sites submitted within that area will be assessed using this methodology which is consistent with that used by Waveney District Council

3 Methodology

3 Methodology

3.0.1 The methodology for this assessment is in accordance with the guidance set out in the Housing and Economic Land Availability Assessment section of the National Planning Practice Guidance (27 March 2015). In line with the guidance this methodology has been made available for consultation, (21 March - 3 May 2016) and informed by key stakeholders' views on the approach to be used to assessing the amount land available for development in the area. The full methodology is available on the joint Authority(s) web sites and is summarised below:

3.1 Identification of sites and broad locations

3.1.1 The HELAA has been prepared from sites from the following base line evidence:

- Sites with planning permission for housing or economic uses which are unimplemented or under construction;
- Sites allocated in existing Local Plans or Local Development Frameworks for housing or economic development which are unimplemented;
- Review of previous studies such as any previous relevant Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessments (SHLAA).

3.1.2 It considers further sites that were submitted through a Call for Sites and desktop reviews, as detailed below:

- Through a Call for Sites (18 January 2016 to 31 May 2016)<sup>(8)</sup>;
- Review of sites where previous planning applications have been refused or withdrawn and pre-application enquiries;
- Land in local authority ownership and other public sector land that could be easily identified
- Vacant, derelict and underused land identified from maps and local knowledge;
- Land and premises for sale;
- Consideration of windfall trends for sites below 0.25 hectares.

3.1.3 By identifying sites through these sources 2,396 sites were identified across North Norfolk, (August 2016).

8 Site Nominations put forward outside of the Call for Sites consultation: the Councils are still accepting site nominations to be tested as part of the Local Plan process. Nominations put forward after the publicised cut-off date for the call for sites are included if notification was prior to the start of site assessment. Subsequent sites will be considered when the HELAA is updated/ Local Plan process. There will be further opportunities through the Local Plan process for Organisations and Individuals to submit alternative sites

3.2 Desktop review and site exclusions

3.2.1 Following the identification of sites, an initial desktop review was carried out to remove potential duplications put forward through different sources. The review also checked for absolute constraints. National Planning Policy Guidance (NPPG) makes it clear that a site's exclusion from the HELAA process during the desktop review will only occur where no feasible development potential can be demonstrated due to the presence of overwhelming constraints for the foreseeable future. Sites which are only partially affected are excluded at this stage but if necessary may still be considered in a finer grained assessment depending on the extent and impact of the associated constraint if there is a requirement to revisit the assumptions. This process is described in more detail in the full methodology report. In these cases where part of the site falls into an area of absolute constraint the gross developable area would be reduced to reflect the constraint but the overall site would be shown on the subsequent mapping.

3.2.2 Sites have been automatically excluded from further capacity assessment in this HELAA where they are:

- within Special Areas of Conservation (SAC), Special Protection Areas (SPA) and Ramsar sites (including potential SPAs, possible SACs, and proposed Ramsar sites) or within Sites of Special Scientific Interest, National Nature Reserves and Ancient Woodland. European legislation and/or the National Planning Policy Framework prohibit development affecting these sites and development within the designation is likely to result in direct loss;
- within Flood Zone 3b<sup>(9)</sup>;
- within the area of Scheduled Ancient Monuments or Ancient woodlands;
- on Statutory Allotments, and/or
- within Locally Designated Green Spaces, including Designated Village Greens and Common Land;
- Within the coastal erosion constraint area.

3.2.3 In addition the NPPG states that "Plan makers will need to assess a range of different site sizes from small-scale sites to opportunities for large-scale developments such as village and town extensions and new settlements where appropriate. The assessment should consider all sites and broad locations capable of delivering five or more dwellings or economic development on sites of 0.25ha (or 500m<sup>2</sup> of floor space) and above. Where appropriate, plan makers may wish to consider alternative site size thresholds"<sup>(10)</sup>

3.2.4 This assessment focuses on identified sites across the district which:

9 Flood zones are defined by the Environment Agency. Flood Zone 3b represents the functional flood plain and its purpose is for storing water in times of flood. These areas have greater than a 5% chance of flooding in any 12-month period (1 in 20 year event). Table 3 of the National Planning Practice Guidance states that only water compatible and essential infrastructure development is appropriate in Flood Zone 3b.

10 DCLG: National PPG Paragraph: 010 Reference ID: 3-010-20140306, Revision date: 06 03 2014

Methodology 3

- a) are capable of delivering 5 or more dwellings, or are at least 0.25 hectares in size and which are located within or immediately adjacent to development boundaries of settlements identified for larger scale growth within adopted Local Plans and / or settlement hierarchies;
- b) are capable of delivering 10 or more dwellings, or are at least 0.25 hectares in size and which are located outside of the areas specified in a).

3.2.5 In February 2017 the Government published the White paper - 'Fixing the broken Housing Market'. This included the commitment to amend the NPPF to include a requirement for “at least 10% of the sites allocated for residential development in local plans should be sites of half a hectare or less<sup>(11)</sup>.”

3.2.6 For the purpose of the White Paper 'small sites' are those capable of accommodating fewer than 10 units, or which are smaller than 0.5ha. With no size or locational restrictions placed on the call for sites, site submission of all sizes and locations were encouraged. The use of a local size threshold accords with the subsequent publication of the Housing White paper and it is considered that that the supply of small sites are reflected in this capacity assessment.

3.2.7 It is not the purpose of the HELAA to identify what locations are “sustainable”, this will be through the Local Plan process at a later date. As such, all settlements will be included within the HELAA as above. If it is shown that a local planning authority cannot identify sufficient capacity to meet its own objectively assessed needs based on the identified thresholds above then in the first instance the size threshold and other assumptions should be revisited.

3.2.8 Appendix 1 sets out the sites that were excluded at this stage of the analysis in more detail.

3.2.9 1,877 sites were subsequently excluded from the HELAA process leaving a total of 519 sites for appraisal.

3 Methodology

3.3 Site Assessment

- 3.3.1 Stage 2 of the assessment process involved assessing whether a site was 'suitable' for the type of development proposed; 'available' based on the best information at hand and that it was expected that the site would be able to be developed, and, 'achievable' - this is essentially an initial high level judgement about the economic viability and deliverability of the site and market attractiveness of its location in respects to property markets and any abnormal constraints on the site.
- 3.3.2 Information on suitability, availability and achievability of developing the sites in North Norfolk was collected and analysed through a combination of desktop assessments, using GIS and a database designed to hold all of this information; where appropriate site visits and through information submitted by landowners, agents and developers. Existing studies, such as previous SHLAAs and the Site Allocations Sustainability Appraisal, March 2010 were also used to inform the site assessment. This information was then used to help ascertain whether a site was 'deliverable' (a realistic prospect that it will be delivered within 5 years) or 'developable' (available for years 6-10 or where possible for sites unlikely to be developed for 11 years or more).

Suitability

- 3.3.3 To assess the suitability of sites a 'red', 'amber' 'green' (RAG) approach was applied to assessing the various types of constraints and potential impacts which may affect the development of sites. Some sites will have impacts and constraints which are insurmountable and thus undermine the suitability of development. Other sites will have impacts and constraints which are surmountable; however, they may be costly to overcome and have an impact on the achievability of development. Those sites judged to be red at this stage were ruled out as part of the overall capacity calculation. Those sites shown as amber and green are considered to be suitable.
- 3.3.4 The types of constraint and impact listed below were considered in terms of assessing suitability.

Constraints:

- Access to site
- Access to local services and facilities
- Utilities capacity
- Utilities infrastructure
- Contamination
- Flood risk
- Coastal change
- Market attractiveness

Impacts:

- Landscape / townscape
- Biodiversity and geodiversity
- Historic environment
- Open Space
- Transport and roads
- Compatibility with neighbouring uses

Methodology 3

3.3.5 Where necessary, third party review by Norfolk County Council Highways and Anglian Water informed the assessments.

Availability

3.3.6 Sites are generally considered available, based on the information at the time of assessment. All sites submitted as planning applications, are automatically added to the capacity. Those sites identified through the call for sites and those previously considered /allocated through the current Local Plan are considered available. Sites from other sources such as historical SHLAA records were cross referenced with data collected at the time and assumed to be available in first five years unless notified otherwise.

3.3.7 Sites with unresolved ownership problems such as multiple ownerships with no agreements, ransom strips, tenancies and covenants were not considered available unless it was judged that there is a reasonable prospect the constraints can be overcome based on officer knowledge around ownership.

3.3.8 Where insufficient data was deemed to be held a targeted exercise in order to update ownership and availability records with landowners, developers and agents was conducted during March 2017.

Achievability

3.3.9 Sites have been considered achievable where it is judged there is a reasonable prospect that development could occur on the site over the plan period. This is essentially an initial high level judgement about the economic viability of the site and market attractiveness of its location in respects to property markets and any abnormal constraints on the site.

3.3.10 The assessment of achievability also considers whether a site is deliverable in the plan period on the basis of its availability and deliverability i.e. available now for development, within the first five years, six to ten years, and eleven to fifteen and sixteen to twenty years. Sites put forward through the call for sites were asked the specific questions. In relation to sites identified from alternative sources deliverability was based on officers Judgements around known constraints i.e its likelihood of the time scale involved to overcome any constraints and previous resource such as the 2016 Statement of Five Year Housing Land Supply.

3.3.11 Assessing whether a site is “achievable” is based on information available at a point in time and on officer’s judgement with regard to factors such as but not limited to:

Land ownership / access

- Is there an existing / viable access to the site, if land-locked is there a known agreement / or is it reasonable to assume third party access will be granted
- Are there other constraints that could affect the financial considerations of the site such as contamination, the need to demolish existing properties, tree preservation orders, and or other restrictions that may reduce the developable area, does the site require substantial infrastructure, including road, water and power?

Market factors

- Overall location in the district in relation to known values
- Developer pressure through considerations of known development sites
- Adjacent uses and attractiveness of the location;
- Current or potential future market demand
- Delivery factors

3 Methodology

- Is the site being promoted by developer
- Is the site size realistic to deliver the required infrastructure / rectify identified constraints/deliver the potential obligation costs
- Are there relocation expectations
- Land value for residential/employment use versus existing and potential competing uses.

Viability

3.3.12 A key determinant of this is usually a high level economic viability assessment of the site and or typical typologies. The intention is that this HELAA will form the basis of further more detailed site assessment to inform the emerging Local Plan. The typologies identified through the HELAA and subsequently the emerging Local Plan will feed into the establishment of site typologies and form the basis of further viability testing along with the emerging policy considerations.

3.3.13 Full details of individual site appraisals are contained in Appendix 2.

3.4 Site Yield

3.4.1 The indicative gross development potential for housing is calculated using a mixed methods approach. The national PPG states that the estimate of the development potential for each site should be guided by the existing use or, emerging plan policies including locally determined policies on density<sup>(12)</sup>. The following indicative density assumptions have been made based on policy HO7 of the adopted Core Strategy - Making the Most Efficient Use of Land.

LPA Area	Policy Reference	Density Requirement (dwellings per hectare (dph))
North Norfolk District Council	HO7	Principal and Secondary Settlements (excluding Hoveton): not less than 40dph.  Service Villages, Coastal Service Villages and Hoveton: not less than 30dph.

Table 3 - Density Requirement

3.4.2 Alternatively, where there is existing information available on the capacity of a site this was used as a starting point.

3.4.3 The development potential of employment sites will reflect local circumstances and be determined on a site by site basis considering the possible uses.

3.5 Windfall

3.5.1 Windfall sites for housing and economic development have provided an important source of development across North Norfolk in the past and are expected to continue to contribute to the supply in the future. Not least due to the governments extension of permitted development rights which allows easier conversion of offices, agricultural buildings and other commercial premises as well as other regulatory reforms that bring increased flexibility into the planning process.

3.5.2 Windfall sites are sites which have not been specifically identified as part of the Local Plan process. The term covers sites that have unexpectedly become available, ranging from large sites (for example resulting from a factory closure) to small sites such as a residential build on a small in fill plot or a new flat over a shop. They also include those which can come forward through permitted development rights.

- 3.5.3 Sites with planning permission are included as a source of sites and many of these could be from existing windfall sites. When projecting windfall trends forward it is important not to double count their contribution.
- 3.5.4 In order to avoid potential double counting with sites identified in Stage 1 the joint HELAA methodology only considers the average delivery rates for sites under 0.25 hectares. i.e. below the site size threshold used in stage 1.
- 3.5.5 Table 2 shows that an additional 904 sites were excluded from assessment due to falling below the 0.25 size threshold adopted. These sites could form part of the potential land capacity in the future depending on the emerging policies in the Local Plan. North Norfolk is a rural district and there has been a steady supply of historical windfall provision forming part of the planning permissions and this is not expected to diminish. These sites could therefore be an additional source of future supply, however as they have not been assessed as part of this study they do not at this stage form part of the identified potential capacity.

4 Limitations

4 Limitations

- 4.0.1 The assessment is based on sites identified from a range of different sources and is based on the information available at the time of assessment (first quarter of 2017). There may be other areas of land that might be suitable and available but to date have not been put forward to the council for assessment.
- 4.0.2 It is important to note that the HELAA does not represent policy and will not determine whether a site should be allocated in the Local Plan or granted planning permission. It offers a broad-brush / high level assessment of individual sites and is in effect a 'pool' from which Local Plan proposal sites can be tested and bought forward. It also represents a 'snapshot' of capacity based upon the data and information available (e.g. site constraints, landowner intentions, stakeholder engagement and site availability).
- 4.0.3 The focus of the assessment is on a sites suitability and at this stage does not take account of cumulative or policy constraints, such as considerations around the cumulative impact and investments around foul drainage and the impacts on future school places. The cumulative assessment is part of the consideration of the Local Plan
- 4.0.4 The sites included within the HELAA were identified based on the methodology set out in stage one. As progress is made on the stages of Local Plan production it is likely that further land sources will be presented to the Council along with further evidence. The Local Plan process remains an iterative process and additional sites and updated information can come forward throughout the process. This means that some sites currently identified as constrained may nevertheless prove to be acceptable locations for development if it is established that the constraint can be overcome.
- 4.0.5 The methodology employed in the capacity study was developed jointly across the Norfolk authorities and informed through a key stakeholder consultation. A number of judgements are made throughout the study and where necessary these have been informed through targeted stakeholder engagement such as with Anglian Water and the Highways Authority.
- 4.0.6 Since the initial site identification a number of sites have been granted planning permission and this may not be reflected in this study.
- 4.0.7 In some cases a site may be fully overlapped by a larger site. In these situations the larger site has been appraised and included within the housing capacity in order to avoid double counting. Both sites effectively contribute to the potential land and dwelling supply.
- 4.0.8 The methodology calls for an indicative trajectory to be prepared and consideration of the risks. At this stage the trajectory prepared is based on the known availability of a site from the Call for Sites and historical records / officer judgement on sites identified from other sources rather than an assessment of its deliverability. This trajectory will be refined through further assessments during the local plan process.

Limitations 4

5 Results

5 Results

5.0.1 Within the HELAA (Part 1) a total of 519 sites<sup>(13)</sup> were assessed for their potential housing delivery. In addition, 370 sites with planning permission also contribute to the existing land supply. Table 5 provides an overview of the sources of sites and indicative number of dwellings which form the potential land supply for the district.

5.0.2 Table 4 outlines the sites detailed in appendices that have been identified as undelivered and are therefore excluded from the HELAA.

Table 5 - HELAA Capacity

5.0.3 The dwelling figures represent the maximum gross amount of development that could take place. No adjustment has been made for the provision of on-site infrastructure such as internal roads and open space. So as not to over estimate the potential capacity an adjustment (allowance) of 30% has been made to the gross capacity for large sites. For small sites it is assumed that the whole of the site can be developed.

5.0.4 In addition to this there are a further 904 sites that could be considered as windfall subject to future policy approaches but which at this stage fall below the assessment threshold identified in the methodology.

13 Calculation: Unsuitable & Unavailable Sites (121 Sites, Table 4) + Total Potential Housing Supply Sites (Table 5, 768 Sites) - Planning Permissions (Table 5, 370 Sites) = 519.

Site Distribution

5.0.5 This indicative potential capacity is grouped by the current settlements that make up the districts hierarchy of main towns and services villages, and is reported in Appendix 6.

Indicative Trajectory

5.0.6 An indicative trajectory has been prepared setting out how much housing could potentially be provided in the district based on known availability. In drafting the indicative trajectory the following assumption are used:

- Call for sites - as indicate on submission
- Sites with planning permission split over 1-5 yrs
- Sites put forward previously through the SHLAA and Local Development Framework process the most up to date information has been used.

5.0.7 The trajectory presented is not a prediction. It is based on the information submitted around availability and deliverability at the time of drafting this HELAA. In practice delivery rates and phasing considerations will need to be factored in. The trajectory will be refined through the Local Plan process.

Picture 1 Trajectory of Dwellings

6 Conclusion

6 Conclusion

- 6.0.1 The HELAA assessment has identified that there is a potential land supply across the district that could deliver 51,904 dwellings.
- 6.0.2 The housing requirement of 420 dwellings per annum equates to 8,387 dwellings over the plan period 2016 - 2036 as identified in the 2016 Central Market Strategic Housing Assessment. This requirement can therefore be more than adequately delivered through the identified potential land supply if the emerging Local Plan provides for the release of a suitable proportion of the available sites.
- 6.0.3 As has already been stated, it is emphasised that the inclusion of a site within the assessment does not imply that that site will be granted planning permission or be subsequently allocated through the Local Plan. The HELAA is a technical document used to identify a portfolio of housing sites which may be selected for future planning purposes following further more detailed assessment including that of cumulative effects and sustainability appraisal.

Next stages

- 6.0.4 The findings of the HELAA will be used alongside other evidence documents, to inform the production of the Local Plan by helping to identify development options for consideration and assessment.

7 Site Maps

Appendix 7: Site Maps

- 7.1 Appendix 7 displays the 519 sites which have progressed to Stage 2 Suitability Assessment. These are categorised into two groups:
- Blue (Less Constrained) - where our assessment indicates that there are no known significant constraints (or no constraints at all).
  - Orange (More Constrained) - where our assessment indicates a more significant constraint which is less likely to be overcome.
- 7.2 The full details of assessment and constraints for each site can be viewed in Appendix 2.
- 7.3 Appendix 7 is a standalone document due to its large size. It is available to download at www.north-norfolk.gov.uk/helaa
